What is Being Recalled?

Trader Joe's Valencia Creamy Salted Peanut Butter is sold at Trader Joe's grocery stores nationwide and on the internet. Sunland Inc. products are distributed nationally via supermarket chains.

As a convenience, FDA has provided a list of products recalled by Sunland Inc., as found on the company's press releases. The recall is limited to the products listed below that have "Best-If-Used-By" dates between May 1, 2013 and September 24, 2013. The "Best-If-Used-By" dates are stamped on the side of the jar's label below the lid. Sunland Inc. has advised consumers to return the product to the supermarket of purchase or to dispose of it.

Please see the company's recall announcement<sup>17</sup> for the most updated list of recalled products.

What are the Symptoms of Salmonellosis?

Most people infected with Salmonella develop diarrhea, fever, and abdominal cramps 12 to 72 hours after infection. The illness usually lasts 4 to 7 days, and most people recover without treatment.

However, in some people, the diarrhea may be so severe that the patient needs to be hospitalized. In these patients, the Salmonella infection may spread from the intestines to the blood stream, and then to other body sites and can cause death unless the person is treated promptly with antibiotics.

Who is at Risk?

Children are the most likely to get salmonellosis. The rate of diagnosed infections in children less than five years old is higher than the rate in all other persons. Young children, the elderly, and those with compromised immune systems are the most likely to have severe infections. It is estimated that approximately 400 persons die each year with acute salmonellosis.

Who Should be Contacted?

Consumers who show any signs of illness from salmonellosis should consult their health care provider. The FDA encourages consumers with questions about food safety to call 1-

888-SAFEFOOD      FREE 1-888-SAFEFOOD or consult the <http://www.fda.gov> website.
